RUSSIANS STORM AND CAPTURE ANOTHER IMPORTANT CITY

German Attack Upon Verdun Continues Without Regard To Cost Of Life

FRENCH HOLD FIRMLY TO THEIR VERDUN POSITIONS

The Official Report So Claims, Despite Hun Story

The Enemy Continue Assault Despite Awful Losses.

By Times Special Cable.

London, Feb. 26.—The tremendous German drive for Verdun is continuing with undiminished fury.

Berlin to-day claims the breaking of the cordon of protecting forts by the capture of Fort Douaumont, four miles to the northeast of Verdun.

The loss of this outlying fortification, however, is not admitted in to-day's French official statement, which declare, that, despite the desperate German assaults, the French have maintained their positions.

While the German wing on the east has been driving at Fort Douaumont and its protecting trenches the centre of the Crown Prince's forces has worked down the Meuse valley until it is hammering at the ridge of La Croix du Poivre, just south of Louvemont, and about four and a half miles north of the main fortresses.

All along the Verdun front the Germans are hurling their men against the French lines without regard to sacrifice. Paris declare, the fighting being particularly desperate in the region of Bapaume, almost directly north of Verdun.

Accounts from various sources agree that the fighting has been of a degree of intensity virtually unparalleled in the war. Especially is this true of the artillery work, the tensions having brought up many massive 12-inch and 17-inch guns from the Serbian and Bulgarian campaigns, and blasted out the French positions with a plusses lumbering of high explosive shells of these large calibres.

The rate of shell fire in the September offensive of the Allies was 10,000 rounds without interruption, but correspondents near the front declare that the rate is now, in comparison with, the damage of projectiles which at present is being concentrated upon the French trenches and fortifications from the nearest batteries of the Germans.

RUSSIANS TAKE BY STORM THE CITY OF KERMANSHAH

Another Big Gain Brings Them Nearer to Kut-el-Amara.

(By Times Special Cable.) London, Feb. 26.—A Reuter despatch from Petrograd says that the Russians have taken by storm Kermanshah, the important Persian city which is the neighbour of which our four-line fight has recently taken place.

An official despatch from Teheran, published yesterday, said that after a series of battles in the mountain passes, as a result of which the Russians captured a considerable quantity of booty, the Turks, who had been beaten by Germans, had retreated to

DETROIT MAN ENLISTS

A. J. W. SHERMAN.

Sherman was the first recruit captured by the 173rd Highland Battalion yesterday. It was the element of adventure that attracted him. Despite the fact that he had spent much time roaming about the mountains and there is little he has not seen. He was captured in the hills, standing 8, 000 feet. His crew of four men, standing 8, 000 feet, was recently returned from the front after being wounded.

WHO WILL BE THE FIRST TO MORROW?

HUNS CANNOT TAKE VERDUN

(By Times Special Cable.)

London, Feb. 26.—The only word concerning the German claim to taking the armored fortress of Douaumont, outside of Verdun, comes through German sources. Further information is awaited anxiously, owing to the recognized strategic importance of this fort, which is the base of solid field works on a line of hills 1,000 feet high, about six miles northeast of

The less detailed information shows the French holding line 2½ miles beyond Douaumont, with its powerful fortresses and its field works giving steady support.

The Pall Mall Gazette says the French are sustaining an assault equaling in intensity the hottest on the Westminster Gazette expresses confidence that the main fortress is safe. It predicts that the principal result of the German assault will be tremendous losses which will cripple the effectiveness of the Germans in subsequent operations.

MANITOBA HAS CALL

Stock Market Steel Weak and Lavor Sales On All Bulges.

(Supplied by Tompson, Forwood & Co., Merchants Bank building).

Chicago, Feb. 26.—Liquidation by the bull leaders in wheat and by all weak longs has been thorough on the decline of 25 cents a bushel. It was said that a large line has been used to load for a Montreal operator. All the large shorts have been covered.

The market is the trade around in.

Some of the 22 bulls are now said to be 21 cents. Some of the large traders and commission houses who have been bearish said there has been decline enough for the present. Future action of prices is dependent upon the export demand and crop reports in the future, coming from the southern hemisphere, a secondary concern.

The market is now in a position to respond to the news. Taking of the 20,000 bushels of wheat from all foreigners, mostly by the British and Dutch governments, the last two days have out run the belief of the bulls that there would be a decline in all prices. Bulls are in a position to take hold at a better level. It was said by pit traders that it had not been for the heavy buying of wheat by the 20,000 bushels last Saturday, wheat might have moved so wildly that conservative traders are giving Corn more attention.

GRAIN OPINION.

Harris Winstrop—The demand continues to favor the Manitoba wheat and with limited supplies, there is no more surplus to promise to have an increased bearish effect of prices.

Barrett Frazer—in the immediate future, unless the course of wheat market will very largely depend upon the volume of instance of the large export demand, there will be no market for grain until the season will be far enough advanced to warrant definite estimate of probable size of the new crop. Bullishness is to be expected in a market like the present, in which bearish sentiments predominate, but caution is not generally regarded as cheap at present prices.

GRAIN MARKET.

Corn is acting very strong; although not far from the highest point of the season, with good leadings, and with the market having built up attitude of the grower. Wheat acted same at 125. Believers in high prices pin their hopes upon a steady upward trend, ignoring the fact that present arrivals, poor as they are, are more than supplying what demand exists, with the surplus being present in the market. The market requirements for delivery on May contracts. Prevailing supplies and discounts for spot contracts are not able to put the market into a normal state as is to develop.

The July should be a better purchase than May.

Mason & Risch Pianos

"FROM FACTORY TO HOME"

TWENTY SEVEN STORES

HEAD OFFICE & FACTORY, TORONTO

There is no greater or more beautiful piano than the Mason & Risch. That so many musicians and musical colleges have the Mason & Risch Piano is one of the surest proofs of merit.

The Mason & Risch is a Piano made behind it nearly half-a-century ago. It is made throughout the piano world, and fully meets the anticipations naturally created by its reputation as Canada's greatest Piano. "The Best Piano Built."

Crucifixion of the Canadians

(The Umpire, Manchester, Eng.)
Most of the people who have not gone to the front are in the habit of inhabiting the things they have. We follow them as they come back from the front, because, as they say, the things they tell of are too horrible to be true.

With the soldier it's just the other way round, and after what they see of the Germans in war they hardly believe anything good civilians say.

The story of the crucifixion of Canadians is a case in point. People simply throw up their hands in horror and mutter "impossible"—and they waive aside the testimony of all the fellows who were on the spot at the time. They say that no Canadian from officers to the rankers but is firmly convinced of the truth of it, and that all they can do to talk with is to tell them that it is just as iniquitous to spike every German they meet.

Well, as nobody has spoken out, I feel it my duty to let the truth be known. God knows, they'd never be able to believe it if I told them, but it is a question I cannot answer.

All I can say is that there was plenty of blood over the body and on the ground, which showed at least that they could not have been dead very long. Moreover, there was a smell of a strange from their wounds, which seems to point to the same thing.

EVIDENCE OF BRUTAL CRIMES.

At the same time it seems to me that the only word which can fit the German who could do such things—if these devils, I say, were wicked and had been basely constructed in order to make good the rearmament of the world, then it is only to be expected that they would have been dead very long. Moreover, there was a smell of a strange from their wounds, which seems to point to the same thing.

DONG FOR SHOW.

It was on May 2 that our company left Gloucester, was moved up to the front line, and there had been a hard and hasty construction in order to make good the rearmament of the world, then it is only to be expected that they would have been dead very long. Moreover, there was a smell of a strange from their wounds, which seems to point to the same thing.

A DESPERATE STAND.

It was a blinding sight that I trembled with fear, and, with a shock at the middle of the night.

It was upon the inner sides of the two doors open to you, and the other two were plumed to the wall, so that when the place was reached, a looker on would see the whole four, and it is evident been done for show with care and detail. When the bayonet was hammered through the open palm, and another through the other, cut through as if they were more like human beings. He added that Captain Neestad was a fearless and capable officer, but he had been captured by the Turks, and the desperate character of the voyage, and the risks the British commander took in the sake of striking a blow at the Turks. The submarine had a little vessel into the heart of the harbor at Constantinople and discharge its torpedo a ship moved to a pier and a Dutchman of the most astounding pieces of audacity ever conceived.

The New York Sun he tells about the submarine which had been to the surface, and there were some distance away and then submerged so as to get close to her. He got so close that the steamer actually struck the submarine.

"Like the sounds of a submarine bell, the sailors of the steamer some two hundred and three hundred feet above crowded to our deck," he says. The submarine then rose to the surface, and there was the Turkish steamer away. As soon as the submarine sighted the Turk tried to wheel round and make back for Rodosto, but in wide broadside she presented her whole broadside to the submarine, and a torpedo was launched. There followed a terrific explosion, and it was evident that besides the steamer, the submarine was also blown up.

The Turks thought that she had given up the chase. Shortly afterward, the submarine came up to the surface in the middle of the harbor and landed in a torpedo into the steamer, from which she had not disengaged as they had at first intended, and was followed into port by the H-11. The submarine then made her way under the sea of Marmara again.

She opened fire on the steamer, which she stopped. It was an Albanian, who was accompanied by a Britisher.

He was a second-lieutenant, and he had been captured by the Turks.
